SEXUAL HARASSMENT

Sexual harassment is a form of sex discrimination that involves unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature when:

Involves a person's job, pay or career:

- ☐ Basis for employment decision
 - ☐ Interferes with performance or creates an intimidating, hostile or offensive work

MUST MEET THREE CRITERIA

- ☐ Must be unwelcome
 - ☐ Sexual in nature
 - ☐ Occur in or impact on the work environment.

Prevention of Sexual Harassment

- ❑ Prevention is the best tool to eliminate sexual harassment in the workplace.
 - ❑ Employers are encouraged to take steps necessary to prevent sexual harassment from occurring.
 - ❑ They should clearly communicate to employees that sexual harassment will not be tolerated.
 - ❑ They can do so by providing sexual harassment training to their employees and by establishing an effective complaint or grievance process; taking immediate and appropriate action when an employee complains.

Reprisal Action - Unlawful

- ❑ It is also unlawful to retaliate against an individual for opposing employment practices that discriminate based on sex or for filing a discrimination charge, testifying or participating in any way in an investigation, proceeding, or litigation under Title VII.
 - ❑ Prohibited by Law and Regulation

Sexual Harassment

- Sexual harassment can occur in a variety of circumstances, including but not limited to the following:
 - The victim as well as the harasser may be a woman or a man. The victim does not have to be of the opposite sex.
 - The harasser can be the victim's supervisor, an agent of the employer, a supervisor in another area, a co-worker, or a non-employee.
 - The victim does not have to be the person harassed but could be anyone affected by the offensive conduct.
 - Unlawful sexual harassment may occur without economic injury to or discharge of the victim.
 - The harasser's conduct must be unwelcome.

Types of Sexual Harassment

Quid Pro Quo and Hostile Work Environment

❑ Quid Pro Quo

- ❑ Quid pro quo sexual harassment occurs when an individual's submission to or rejection of sexual advances or conduct of a sexual nature is used as the basis for employment decisions affecting the individual or the individual's submission to such conduct is made a term or condition of employment.
 - ❑ It is sufficient to show a threat of economic loss to prove quid pro quo sexual harassment.
 - ❑ A single sexual advance may constitute harassment if it is linked to the granting or denial of employment benefits.
 - ❑ Courts have held employers strictly liable for quid pro quo sexual harassment initiated by supervisory employees.
 - ❑ A subordinate who submits and then changes her or his mind and refuses can still bring quid pro quo sexual harassment charges.

 - ❑ Source: <http://www.de2.psu.edu/harassment/legal/>

Hostile Work Environment Harassment

- Hostile environment sexual harassment occurs when unwelcome sexual conduct unreasonably interferes with an individual's job performance or creates a hostile, intimidating or offensive work environment even though the harassment may not result in tangible or economic job consequences, that is, the person may not lose pay or a promotion. Employers, supervisors, coworkers, customers, or clients can create a hostile work environment.

- Hostile environment sexual harassment might include:
 - repeated requests for sexual favors
 - demeaning sexual inquiries and vulgarities
 - offensive language
 - other verbal or physical conduct of sexual or degrading nature
 - sexually offensive, explicit or sexist signs, cartoons, calendars, literature or photographs displayed in plain view
 - offensive and vulgar graffiti

Confidentiality

 - ❑ Feedback will be provided to all affected individuals consistent with the requirements of the Privacy Act, Freedom of Information Act, and other pertinent laws, regulations and negotiated agreements.

Liability

- ❑ There are two conditions that determine liability for employers in cases of hostile environment sexual harassment:
- ❑ The employer knew or should have known about the harassment, and
- ❑ The employer failed to take appropriate corrective action.
- ❑ An employer can be held liable for the creation of a hostile environment by a supervisor, by non-supervisory personnel, or by the acts of the employer's customers or independent contractors if the employer has knowledge of such harassment and fails to correct it.

Protected Activity:

Opposition to Discriminatory Practice

□ Opposition to a discriminatory practice .

- The anti-retaliation provisions make it unlawful to discriminate against an individual because s/he has opposed any practice made unlawful by Title VII, the ADEA, the EPA, or the Rehab Act.
 - A complaint amounts to protected opposition only if the individual explicitly or implicitly communicates a belief that the practice constitutes unlawful employment discrimination.
 - The opposition clause does not require the person be correct in their belief that the agency's employment practice they opposed actually violated Title VII, the ADEA, the EPA, and/or the Rehab Act.
 - The opposition clause protects the individual provided that they had a good faith and reasonable belief that a violation of the EEO statutes had or was occurring.

Protected Activity:

Participation in the EEO Process

□ Participating in the EEO process.

- Title VII, the ADEA, the EPA, and the Rehab Act make it unlawful to discriminate against any individual because s/he has filed a complaint, testified, assisted, or participated in any manner in an investigation, proceeding, hearing, or litigation under any of the anti-discrimination statutes.
 - While the opposition clause applies only to those who protest practices that they reasonably and in good faith believe are unlawful, the participation clause applies to all individuals who participate in the EEO complaints process.
 - An agency can be found liable for retaliating against an individual for filing an EEO complaint regardless of the merits or reasonableness of the original complaint.

Disciplinary Actions

- ❑ Under the existing laws, each agency retains the right, where appropriate, to discipline a Federal employee who has engaged in discriminatory or retaliatory conduct, up to and including removal.
 - ❑ If OSC has initiated an investigation under 5 U.S.C. 1214, however, according to 5 U.S.C. 1214(f), agencies must seek approval from the Special Counsel to discipline employees for, among other activities, engaging in prohibited retaliation.
 - ❑ Nothing in the No FEAR Act alters existing laws or permits an agency to take unfounded disciplinary action against a Federal employee or to violate the procedural rights of a Federal employee who has been accused of discrimination.
